

BUSY BEE PRESS

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED!!!

Dear Parents,

Please let us take a moment to explain the Busy Bee Press Publishing Center. The teachers give their students writing assignments. The students then write creative wonderful stories, which need to be typed and bound into books. Each book is returned to the student for illustration by that student. These books then come home and become a treasured Bee Meadow School keepsake. It is amazing to watch the progress of your child's educational development each year by collecting these cherished works of art and writing.

The children are very proud of these books and enjoy reading them again and again! They get very excited when a parent types or is in any way involved in the publishing of these books for their class. Any help you can give would be greatly appreciated.
